

Getting Involved in School Group Service

Each of us has areas of service related to our particular interests or expertise, and we may not think of supplementing that service with service within the School Group. Keep in mind that energetic activity is intensified when we work together as a group.

Here are some ways to help expand and reinforce the service contribution of the School Group beyond its teaching activities:

1. Encourage intergroup collaboration between the School and other esoteric groups of which you are a member. See the School's Policy on Intergroup Collaboration for specifics.
2. Distribute School brochures in your local community. The School can supply you with copies.
3. Find ways to mention content from the School's website (with the specific URL) or School publications in your communications with others.
4. Link to the School's Facebook page (facebook.com/EsotericStudies) and the School's YouTube channel.
5. Announce School activities like the annual Subjective Group Conference or new website content to your network.
6. Submit short articles or event information to outreach@esotericstudies.net for publication in the School's eNews, including reports on service activities in which you have participated.
7. Make suggestions for new content on the School's website.

If you have other ideas or suggestions, please let the School know at: outreach@esotericstudies.net.
